

WOMAN

Uses Dynamite in Blackmailing Scheme

HURLS SEVERAL STICKS

Fell In Automobile Near Where Detectives Were Standing

Had Demanded $20,000 of Mrs. Phipps a Denver Society Woman.

Denver, Nov. 10.—After haunting the residence of her intended victim for two days and making every effort in every way imaginable to get into communication with her, an unknown woman, who threatened Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, divorced wife of Lawrence Phipps, the Pittsburgh millionaire, with death unless she was given $20,000 in money, was followed in her design by the clever work of the bank and city detectives. When she discovered that she was beaten, the woman cast dynamite sticks intended for Mrs. Phipps at the detective, but fortunately they fell against the upholstered wall of an enclosed automobile, which prevented them from exploding.

The woman was quickly placed under arrest and efforts are being made to find some clue to her identity. She persistently refused to give her name, but insisted that she was under the influence of a hypnotist and that this explains her attempt to blackmail Mrs. Phipps.

The woman went about carrying out her plan with a determination evidently born of desperation. She had repeatedly telephoned the Phipps home and called there in an effort to have an audience with the well-known society leader.

Finally Mrs. Phipps became alarmed and yesterday went automobling in City park to avoid the woman, who had made several calls at the house during the day. The woman evidently saw her leave in the machine, for she attempted to attract the attention of Mrs. Phipps as she was being driven slowly along one of the park drive-ways. She was standing behind a tree at the time.

Mrs. Phipps directed her chauffeur to continue past the woman, but she leaped from behind the tree and into the machine as it was going by.

She quickly engaged Mrs. Phipps in conversation, assuring her that her apparent fears were unnecessary; that she was a magazine writer and had no desire to do injury to Mrs. Phipps. She talked so kindly that Mrs. Phipps became reassured and they rode together for 15 or 20 minutes. Suddenly the woman produced several sticks of dynamite and demanded that Mrs. Phipps give her $20,000 within an hour on pain of death. She directed that the automobile be driven to the Wolcott school and that Mrs. Phipps' daughter be taken along, and evidently for the purpose of having a hostage.

Mrs. Phipps agreed to get the money, and the party headed for the bank, after stopping at the school to get the little daughter of Mrs. Phipps. Arriving at the bank, all but the strange woman left the machine. This evidently was not intended in the program, but she made no protest. Once inside the building, Mrs. Phipps hurriedly related her experience to a bank official, and police headquarters were communicated with. Two detectives hurried to the bank. In the meantime a special bank detective had engaged the strange woman in conversation as she sat in the machine near the sidewalk. Two city detectives detailed on the case walked to the rear of the machine and opened the door on the street side. The woman saw that she was trapped and dashed the dynamite sticks at the two officers. They struck against the cushions and fell to the floor intact. Had they exploded great damage and loss of life doubtless would have resulted, for the scene of the occurrence is in the very heart of the city.

The police have investigated every source of information at hand in an effort to ascertain the identity of the mysterious woman. Last night they found in her room at the American

EMPEROR

CHEERED BY SUBJECTS

Over Three Hundred Thousand Witnessed the Ascent

Ruler Calm and Not a Bit Excited as Big Craft Shot Upwards.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—Emperor William ascended with Count Zeppelin in his airship this afternoon. Just before the ascension it was announced that the government had bought the airship. The weather at the time of the ascent was clear and cold. Over three hundred thousand people witnessed the ascent.

Count Zeppelin piloted the airship with its cargo which included ten others besides the emperor and count, two being officers of the emperor's suite. The emperor was as calm as though stepping into his automobile and he was saluting the cheering sea of faces below him as the big air craft shot upwards.

JURY

In the Guilt Murder at Laporte, Ind., Will Probably Be Selected Before Night.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 10.—With 12 men in the jury box accepted by the state, but only four of them so far examined by the defense, the second day's session of the trial of Ray Lamphere on the charge of murdering Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children began today. From the speed with which the four jurors were accepted, it is now expected that a full jury will be accepted by both sides before night.

BARREL NOT SAFE BANK.

Delaware, Nov. 10.—Merritt & Day, grocers, learned that a sugar barrel is not exactly the safest hiding place for money. Saturday night, on closing, they had almost $125 in ready cash on hand, and rather than trust it to the safe, thrust the sum into a bag and hid it in the sugar barrel. Yesterday morning, when they went to dig out the money, it was gone. Examination disclosed that entrance had been made through a rear window.

ELIHU ROOT TO ENTER THE SENATE.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Elihu Root, secretary of state under the Roosevelt administration, will be the next senator from the state of New York, to succeed Thomas C. Platt, whose term of office expires at noon March 4 next.

William L. Ward, national committeeman from New York, and Speaker Wadsworth, of the New York general assembly, had a long conference with this president on the New York senatorship. Mr. Ward is one of the Republican bosses of New York, and, although he is doing little talking while in Washington, it is known that the selection of Elihu Root to succeed T. C. Platt would not be disagreeable to him.

Speaker Wadsworth, after the interview, said the president would keep his hands off the senatorship matter. What his own feeling was in the situation Speaker Wadsworth did not say, but it is understood he, too, would be willing to accept Mr. Root.

STANDARD WINS OUT IN U. S. COURT OF APPEALS

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The United States circuit court of appeals, Judges Crosscup, Baker and Seaman sitting, today denied the government's petition for a rehearing before that court of the $29,000,000 Standard Oil case. The court sustained its original ruling, reversing the decision of United States District Judge Landis, and remanding the case to him for retrial. It is believed that Attorney General Bonaparte will now take the case to the United States Supreme court on a writ of certiorari.

EMPEROR WILLIAM HAS PROMISED TO BE GOOD

Berlin, Nov. 10.—After one of the stormiest sessions in the history of the German Reichstag today, Chancellor Von Buelow replied to interpellations from various bodies of the Reichstag to the effect that Emperor William had promised him that he would exercise greater caution in his public utterances in the future.

The chancellor admitted that he could give no pledge or guarantee that the emperor would hereafter take smaller part in governmental affairs. For this reason his reply is considered unsatisfactory. Von Buelow attempted to defend the Kaiser but it was clearly apparent that he was laboring under a terrific strain.

BIGAMIST

Arrested in Danville, Secured a Marriage License in Newark—An Auto Caused the Trouble.

Mt. Vernon, Nov. 10.—Languishing in the county jail is Frank Belknap, alias Norton, a clever young fellow from Kinsman, Ohio, who is in the prison for making love to and marrying Mary Rowley, of Fredericktown, when he is said to have a wife and family in his home town. The trouble that placed the man behind the bars was a buzz wagon owned by Miss Rowley. Belknap, arriving in Fredericktown, made violent love to the young woman, which was returned, and he talked her into buying an auto, in which they had many long, pleasant rides together. Finally they went to Newark on May 10, where a license was secured and the couple then journeyed to Youngstown, where they were married. Shortly afterward, Belknap borrowed his bride's auto, saying he wanted to take a little trip, and that was the last ever seen of him until Officer McElroy arrested him in Danville a few days ago. He will be given his hearing later.

Upper Sandusky, Nov. 10.—Priscilla Abers, aged 60; Wm. Abers, 23; Ella, 12, and Mary, 19, of Carey, were arrested yesterday after a mysterious attempt at self-destruction.

At daylight a farmer entering the village saw the Abers cottage on fire and gave the alarm. The fire department found the windows locked and the doors barred, with furniture and the family huddled together in the living room, staring wild-eyed at the flames. Attempts to rescue them were met with resistance. Kicking, fighting and yelling they were dragged from their home and locked up. After the fire was put out it was discovered that the furniture, bedding and carpets had been saturated with coal oil, and that fire had been started in several places at once.

No motive for the deed is known. There has been no insanity in the family, and those arrested refuse to talk. They have always been in comfortable financial circumstances.

DUEL

Ends in Death for Tennessee Editor

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY

Ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack Shot by Son of Former Friend

Dispute as to Who Pulled Trigger First—South Greatly Excited.

Nashville, Nov. 10.—All Tennessee today in a frenzy of excitement following the killing last evening of ex-Senator Edward W. Carmack by Col. Duncan S. Cooper and his son Robin. A special session of the grand jury has been called for tomorrow. Colonel Cooper will be given a preliminary hearing today in jail as accessory to the murder, while his son Robin, whom Carmack wounded in the shoulder, is under arrest in St. Thomas hospital. His injuries are slight and he will be able to appear at the preliminary hearing today.

It is said both men will waive examination and be bound over without bail. Neither of the Coopers will make any statement regarding the shooting of the former Senator.

Governor Patterson of Tennessee, a warm friend of Cooper, says he does all he could to avert the tragedy. Friends of Carmack declare the killing was cold blooded. The trouble was caused by editorial attacks on Colonel Cooper by The Tennessean, of which paper Carmack was editor. Cooper aided Governor Patterson, when he ran for governor, defeating Carmack in the primaries. A fight over prohibition is largely responsible for the tragedy.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Former United States Senator Edward W. Carmack was shot three times and instantly killed by Robin Cooper, son of Colonel Duncan Cooper, in a three-cornered duel between father, son and the former Senator on Seventh avenue, immediately in front of the Polk flats here, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Young Cooper was shot in an arm, but was not seriously wounded.

The tragedy was the result of editorial attacks which had been made on Colonel Cooper in the Tennessean, edited by Senator Carmack.

The stories of the tragedies are conflicting. One of these is that Senator Carmack was walking down the street with Mrs. Charles H. Eastman when he was approached by Colonel Cooper and his son, who drew their revolvers as soon as they saw Carmack.

Reports, which have spread broadcast over the town are that Senator Carmack stepped behind the woman when he saw the two men approach. Young Cooper yelled to him to stand out, branding him as a coward as he did.

When Carmack stepped out the young man began to fire. Three bullets took effect, two of them under the heart and within an inch of each other, and the third in the neck.

Mr. Carmack had been warned that Colonel Cooper would resent newspaper ridicule if continued, and was armed with a revolver, two chambers of which he emptied.

Mr. Carmack had left his office and was going to his apartments on Seventh avenue. Colonel Cooper and son were coming down the avenue. As they approached, Mr. Carmack was shot.

WOMAN DESCRIBES CURE FOR ECZEMA.

(From Chicago Record-Herald.)

Here is a simple treatment for skin diseases, such as salt rheum, eczema, itchy skin, etc., that is so good that I feel I ought to make it public in your columns. Dissolve one spoonful of pure powdered chloroform in two tablespoons of hot water and rub the diseased skin with the warm solution 20 minutes at a time twice a day. The only precaution is to be sure to get the pure drug, just as it comes from the chemical works, in small, sealed packages, and make the solution fresh each time it is to be used. It must be applied fresh and warm. Any good drug store has this well-known chemical.

It seems almost too simple, but the best things are always simple. I cured my husband of a very bad case of eczema on the leg, and my little boy's ring-worm with it; also a very dear friend who had letter on her hand. It dries up the eruptions in a few days and stops the itching at once. A friend of mine who got the prescription from a famous skin specialist gave it to me. It is a priceless discovery and I hope you will publish this.

ROOSEVELT AS EDITOR

President's Connection With the Outlook and His Duties.

WILL DO SPECIAL WORK.

Position to Be "Analogous to That of Consulting Engineer" in an Undertaking Like Panama Canal—Hailed as a World Leader—To Write What He Pleases.

The Outlook, of which the Rev. Lyman Abbott is the editor, recently announced the part that President Roosevelt will have in the conduct of the magazine after he retires from the presidency. This is the statement: On and after March 5, 1909, Theodore Roosevelt will be associated with the Outlook's editorial staff as special contributing editor.

As the beginning of the nineteenth century was characterized by the movement toward political democracy, so the beginning of the twentieth century has been characterized by a movement toward industrial democracy. In this world movement Theodore Roosevelt has been recognized as a world leader. No one who knows him has believed that his leadership would cease with his retirement from the presidency. We congratulate ourselves and our readers that this leadership, exercised for the last seven years in presidential messages, will be exercised in the future through the columns of the Outlook, which will be the exclusive channel for the expression of his views on political, industrial and social topics.

Mr. Roosevelt will be more than a mere contributor. His headquarters will be at the Outlook's office, and he will be in frequent and, we hope, in constant consultation with its staff.

It will thus be somewhat to that of a consulting engineer, as in the case of the Panama canal. The Outlook's editorial control of the Outlook's contributions, though of a different nature, will be the absolute and unqualified control of the Outlook's editorial staff.

lost and the value of the Outlook will be enhanced by frank discussions between this journal and its distinguished associate.

As already announced in these columns, Mr. Roosevelt after retiring from the presidency will sail for Africa, and the reports of his scientific hunting expedition will be published exclusively in Scribner's Magazine. During this period his contributions on questions of the day will necessarily be somewhat restricted. Yet the Outlook will have the benefit of his foresight before he sails and will give to its readers occasional articles from his pen on topics of current interest which will foreshadow his larger editorial activity upon his return to his native land.

"The history of the world," says Hegel, "is none other than the progress of the consciousness of freedom." Ever since its birth in 1870 the Outlook has been endeavoring to interpret current history in the spirit of this definition. We count ourselves very happy in being promised in this work the co-operation of an American so eminent in the essential qualities of leadership as Theodore Roosevelt—high ideals, extraordinary quickness and largeness of vision, the long look ahead, a consistent and progressive political philosophy, practical wisdom in applying the great principles to present and prospective conditions, unfailing good humor, faith in God and in his fellow men and always indomitable and unquestioned courage.

MOUND BUILDERS FANS.

Chicago Professor Says Their Inclosures Were Baseball Fields.

"Baseball is not a modern game, and all credit for the invention of it should go to the mound builders," said Professor Frederick Starr of the University of Chicago in a recent lecture on prehistoric archaeology. Professor Starr declares that through the southern part of Ohio and Indiana he has found geometrically perfect mounds or inclosures closely resembling the modern baseball diamond. These are generally believed to have been built for purposes of protection. Professor Starr, however, says:

"They are nothing more or less than old baseball fields of the mound builders. The game as played by these old people resembled our modern game closely. The most essential difference is that our game calls for only nine players, while in prehistoric times as many as a hundred men were necessary."

District With Bryan and Harmon.

We give below the plurality of Bryan, Harmon and Ashbrook in each county in the Seventeenth district:

Bryan's plurality in district.....3238
Harmon's plurality in district.....5249

In his home county, (Licking) in 1906, Mr. Ashbrook had 45 plurality. On November 3d, 1908 his plurality was 2787, which breaks the record of the late William Bell, Jr. in 1874 by over 600 and is the largest vote anyone ever received in the county.

His vote in his home precinct, home county and the district breaks all records.
In 1904 the district elected Judge Smyser (Rep.) by 2276. In 1906 Mr. Ashbrook was elected by 485. In 1908 he was re-elected by 7,373.

THAT RETURN OF RUINED "PROSPERITY"

To a staff correspondent of the New York Sunday World, President-elect Taft outlines the policy of his coming administration and describes recent events that brought on leading issues of the late campaign.
After describing what he promises to do in the way of reforms as to Trusts, Labor, Tariff and Postal Savings Banks, Mr. Taft makes the following conclusion regarding Prosperity:

"I believe thoroughly that the return of the Republican party to power will mean the immediate return of prosperity."
The significance and remarkable character of this statement is that Mr. Taft fails to state who and what caused the destruction of the Prosperity that is now to "return" along with the "return of the Republican party to power."
It cannot be claimed that William I. Bryan or the Democratic campaign in 1908 had anything to do with the Roosevelt depression in business early in 1907 that culminated in the panic of October of that year and which in many respects was the worst ever witnessed in the country's history.
The empty dinner pails of 1907 and 1908 and the thousands of idle work-

ARGUMENTS FOR COUNTY OPTION OR AGAINST IT

Advocate Will Be Impartial in Contest to Be Waged in Licking County Soon.

Now that the petitions for an election in Licking county under provisions of the Rose County Local option law are in circulation and as the advocates of local option are holding meetings in Newark and over the county, many communications relating to the subject are being received at this office. Some of the communications support county local option while others oppose it.

The publication of these communications would involve much expense and occupy many columns of space. It would be manifestly unfair to publish some and ignore the others.

This newspaper is neither the organ of the liquor interests nor the champion of county option. It believes this is a question for the people themselves to decide and will not attempt to influence them.

Following the rule established by many other newspapers, the Advocate opens its columns to both sides and will accord impartial treatment to each, but to hold the argument within reasonable bounds will make the charge of twenty-five cents an inch for space. Arguments for and against local option may be published in this paper upon that basis and everything relating to the subject will be treated as advertising. The position of this newspaper has been explained to the officers of the Local Option forces and to the Personal Liberty League, each having been given assurance of impartial treatment. The statement here published is made for the benefit of those who have written or who may wish to express their views on the subject through these columns.

To this end, it is my desire that all my constituents, irrespective of party or faction, should address me on any legislation that may touch their welfare.
Again thanking you all for the high honor conferred upon me, I remain, very obediently yours,

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

City Versus Company Operation
From an Engineer's Viewpoint.

Why Men Do Better and More Efficient Work For Private Employers Than For the Public—Public Control and Private Operation the True Solution.

By HUBERT S. WYNKOOP, M. E.

The pendulum has swung from apathy toward public utility corporations to an intense interest in curbing them—even to the extent of taking over their functions to be administered by the municipality. During the past few years a mass of argument and testimony on this question has been contributed by publicists, conservative and otherwise, and by demagogues, ignorant and otherwise. To this I add my quota, having had thirteen years' experience as a municipal engineer in close contact with the engineers of the public utility corporations.

"Public utilities" is a delightfully satisfying term on account of its vagueness, its definition depending largely upon the state of mind of the populace. For this reason it appeals to every one, be he interested in good government or bad, and it includes water, gas and electric works, street railways, telegraphs, telephones, ferries, push carts, markets, banks and even lotteries—according to the time and place.

Whatever may be the verdict as to the more doubtful activities, it seems to be pretty well agreed that the supplying of water, gas and electricity, street railway transportation and ferriage are public utilities and therefore require public "regulation" or "ownership."

In this all of the people stand substantially on one platform—an adequate return for franchise privileges and a good service for a fair price. But as to ways and means opinions diverge widely.

Briefly as this platform may be stated, its fulfillment requires an elaborate knowledge of social economics, engineering, finance, law and local conditions. The solution of the problem may develop along one of three lines:

I. Regulation.

II. Municipal ownership and private operation.

III. Municipal ownership and municipal operation.

I.—Regulation.
When a community is the fortunate possessor of a regulating body composed of men of a high honor and intelligence the problem is solved for all those who are not seeking personal aggrandizement. In Massachusetts public utility stocks have become or are becoming a safe investment.

Theoretically regulation offers the maximum of result with the minimum of disturbance of existing conditions. Under wise laws, therefore, and in the hands of able men it holds itself less open to adverse criticism than either of the other methods.

The corporations, too, are generally in favor of some kind of regulation. In the present distrust of all corporations the inflamed mind gives no credence to any statement that may emanate from a corporation, although the same mind will confidently accept an identical statement if issued from the office of a regulating commission which has proved itself trustworthy.

II.—Municipal Ownership and Private Operation.

Next after regulation comes the plan of serving the franchise rights by the city itself, which undertakes its own construction and rents out the right to operate. The results provide an adequate return for the use of the public domain, and the terms of the lease supply the desired features of regulation—a good service at a fair price.

It is claimed that this method retards development by preventing speculative construction, as the city must confine its energies to the so-called legitimate finance. On the other hand, it is argued, the city ought to be able to indulge in speculative construction whenever the public welfare demands it.

The rapid transit subway in New York affords a good opportunity for studying the practical working of this plan.

III.—Municipal Ownership and Municipal Operation.

There are those, however, who cannot rest content with halfway measures. To these and to the politicians the idea of municipal operation is an appealing one. They point to the successful conduct of waterworks by the city and argue therefrom that a municipal street railway, for instance, would be just as successful. Perhaps it would be.

But success may be attained in a variety of ways, and the best success is that gained through economy. A city might furnish the purest of water, ample in quantity and sufficient in pressure, and yet an adequately regulated corporation would probably do this very thing more successfully because at lower rates.

Admitting the payment of the prevailing rate of wages and accepting the eight hour law in both cases and assuming adequate regulation of the corporation, it would seem to be a mere matter of arithmetic to prove why the municipality should not, as a rule, undertake the operation of its own utilities.

Suppose we consider the pros and cons.

City Operation.

Methods embarrassed by law.

Methods antiquated.

Methods nondescript to increase the importance of officials.

Appointments of head men made as rewards for political service.

Appointments and dismissals of subordinates hampered by the civil service laws and by the exigencies of politics.

Many unnecessary or inefficient men carried on the payroll for political reasons.

Appropriations granted or withheld, largely for political reasons.

In many cases 50 per cent of a day's work accepted for a day's pay.

Honesty, sobriety, loyalty, willingness, energy, courtesy and tact command no better rating than the opposite qualities—the civil service certification of competency levels all.

Corporation Operation.

Methods chosen by the head men of the corporation.

Methods kept up to date.

Methods direct; to make the minimum amount of work.

Appointments of head men made for fitness.

Appointments and dismissals of subordinates at the will of their immediate superiors, who are responsible for results.

A few unnecessary or inefficient men carried on the payroll for political reasons.

Appropriations granted or withheld in accordance with sound business reasons.

Generally 100 per cent of a day's work demanded for a day's pay.

Honesty, sobriety, loyalty, willingness, energy, courtesy and tact command corresponding rewards in the shape of increase of salary or promotion or in the shape of a reputation which will attract the attention of other and more liberal employers.

An Overdose of M. O.

Wheeling, W. Va., has gone more deeply into municipal ownership than most cities of this country, owing, as it does, its own water, gas and electric plants. These plants have all been allowed to run down until they are desperately in need of repairs, and no fund has been set aside to balance this depreciation. Now the city finds that there is no ready market for its bonds, and as a result things are going from bad to worse until the people are forced to turn again to private enterprise, as shown by the following paragraph in the Municipal Journal and Engineer:

"Well drilled are finding a fruitful field in Wheeling at the present time as the result of the commendable efforts of public spirited men and women of the various wards. Physicians believe that the advent of so many wells will materially reduce the number of fever cases resulting from Ohio river water. The drilling of wells is paid for by subscriptions pledged by residents in the neighborhood."

The cost of the wells will not show in the report of the water department.

The Soulless Corporation.

Here is another example of the soulless gas corporation. Mankato, Minn., has been suffering sorely through and by an epidemic of typhoid fever. To add to the discomfort of the patients the weather temperature was very high during the worst of the fever outbreak. To lend a helping effort Mr. R. E. Brown, general manager of the Mankato Gas and Electric Light company, caused the following notice to be published throughout the city:

"The Mankato Gas and Electric company will gladly install an electric fan for any one who is seriously sick during the present epidemic without any charge at all, providing the party is within reach of our current. Advise us through your attending physician."—American Gas Light Journal.

A Municipal Brewery.

The Vienna municipal brewery, in which a sum of $400,000 has been invested, last year showed a loss of $18,000. In the previous sixteen months a loss of $19,000 was incurred, so that the actual deficit for 1907 was proportionately greater, although the output and sales of beer had increased. In 1907 some 2,750,000 gallons of beer were brewed. Not only was too much money paid for the building and equipment in the first place, but the management has been very stupidly conducted. Instead of appointing as manager an expert brewer the council put a municipal official in charge. As a result money was lost in all sorts of ways.—London Standard.

As Was to Be Expected.

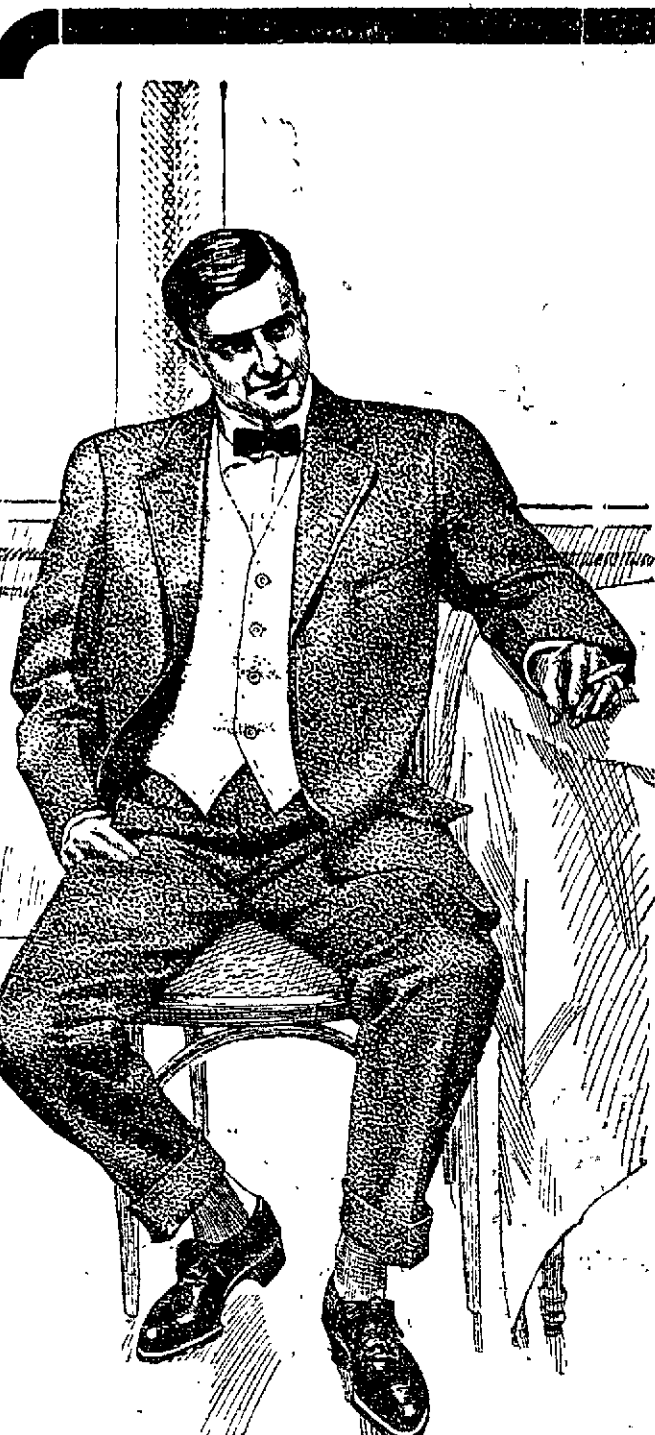

Five years ago London took over its waterworks, with the result that water rates have increased rather than diminished. Referring to the operating expenses, Sir Melville Beachcroft, chairman of the water board, recently said:

"So far it must be admitted that no saving had been effected. I do not think that it was ever anticipated that there would be any saving in the expenses of administration, as the management of a trading concern by a municipal body must always involve expenditure quite outside that which falls on a private company."

Where It Finches.

"Discussed" writes to the London Daily Express: "For years past I have always paid at the rate of 21 shillings per annum for water under the New River company, but now I have just received a demand note from the Metropolitan water board for water at the rate of 21 shillings per annum. This is the benefit (3) we get for doing away with private enterprise and is, I consider, a fair eye linen of state trade."

At a meeting called by the board of trade of Andover, N. J., and attended by about 150 citizens the proposition to install a municipal waterworks was overwhelmingly defeated.

This Recipe Conquers Deep-Seated Coughs Quickly

This simple home-made remedy, made by the recipe below, will conquer a stubborn cough in twenty-four hours. Although inexpensive, nothing more effective could be bought for ten times the cost. It is a splendid thing to have in the house, for if taken when the first symptoms of a cold or cough appear it will enable you to avoid the usual annoyance and suffering. This recipe is worth saving:

Granulated Sugar Syrup.....134 oz.

Pinex 2 1/2 oz.

Take a pint of Granulated Sugar, add half cup of water, stir and let boil for just a moment. Put the Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and add the Syrup. Shake well, and take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours as required.

This simple remedy is also excellent for whooping cough, chest pains, hoarseness and similar ailments. Children take it without the usual howl, because the taste is so pleasant. The total cost of a full pint of the mixture is about 54 cents, and will last a whole family a long time.

Use the ingredients as here given. Pinex, being the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, is easily superior to any of the weaker pine oil or pine tar preparations. It is rich in all the natural elements of the pine, which give the very air of the pine forests its remarkable curative power in tuberculosis and other membrane diseases.

If your druggist does not have the real Pinex in stock, he can easily order it for you if you ask him.

Granulated Sugar makes the best Syrup and is a simple, excellent sedative.

GRANVILLE

Granville, Ohio, Nov. 10.—No small amount of interest was shown by the student body of Denison University in the preliminary cross country run held in Granville, yesterday afternoon for the purpose of choosing the 'varsity' team which is to represent the school against Ohio State's strong 'squad' next Saturday on the home course. The course was the same as used last year in the inter-collegiate and U. S. team races and the alternates were in the order in which they finished, T. H. Wickenden, A. K. Mather, captain, N. H. Cayman, T. E. Patterson, and R. C. Gill. In spite of the absence from the team this season of Orcutt, the crack runner of the school, the showing thus far has been exceptionally good.

The time which the men made has not yet been officially announced; yet judged from the snaps taken by the onlookers it compares very favorably with last year's records. The finish was a spectacular one indeed, the first two only a few feet apart and the last two almost neck and neck. They all showed plenty of reserve force and finished strong.

Manager Carman reports that there is no reason why the 'varsity' cross country team should not make as creditable showing against State's men this year as last or even more so. A very closely contested meet is looked forward to next Saturday afternoon, when this same course will be run by the two respective teams.

The C. L. Herrick Geological society

held its regular meeting in Science hall Monday evening with a good attendance. The meeting was one of the best held for a long time and was characterized by the presentation of several exceedingly interesting papers. "The Drainage of New England," a paper by Mr. C. W. Thomas, was exceedingly interesting. It pointed out the great economic value of the waterfalls and rapids, which have influenced the establishment of industrial centers.

H. D. Swigart's paper on "The Life History of Marshes," was also listened to with a great deal of attention. The paper showed that much waste marsh land along the Atlantic coast could easily be reclaimed and utilized as farms. Already hundreds of thousands of acres of swamp lands had been reclaimed, and the work was going steadily on.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Wilson has returned from an extended trip through the west. Mrs. Wilson is the head of the Conservatory of Music of Denison University, and it is a most accomplished musician. During her absence in the west she filled two engagements, one before the students of Kansas State University, at Lawrence, Kansas, and the other at the Central Christian church in Denver, Col. Monday she sang in chapel. Friday last she spent with her son Samuel, in Indiana.

At the annual business session of Doane Athletic association the following officers were elected to manage the affairs of the association during the year: President, E. Watkins; vice president, Q. A. Main; secretary, C. E. Stoner. Messrs. J. P. Wilson and S. E. Patterson were selected by the Preps to represent them on the board of control.

Miss Ruth Akers and Miss Winnifred Morgan of Cleveland, who have been visiting in Granville, returned home Monday.

Miss Sue Waddell of Cleveland, and Miss Helen Cosley of Troy, are visiting in town for a few days.

Dr. C. J. Rose of Granville occupied the pulpit in the Ashland Avenue Baptist church of Toledo, Sunday.

Miss Ruth Shipley of Cincinnati is the guest of Mrs. Nichols on College street.

Miss Bess Billman of Dayton, who has been visiting Miss Dorothy Swartz, has returned home.

A number of local hunters are making preparations to go out and try their luck at shooting cotton-tails at the first opportunity. The season opens November 15, and rabbits are said to be quite plentiful in this neighborhood.

Miss Laura Bennett of Pickerington, O., made a short visit with friends in the village during the past week.

In the cases of the State of Ohio against Alfred Nethers and against George Gordon, charged with illegal netting of fish in Buckeye Lake, which were tried before Justice Sayre on Friday and Saturday of last week, Gordon was found not guilty but Wethers was found guilty. Wethers was fined $50 and the costs. An appeal will be made to the higher court, however, and Wethers will be required to give bond in the sum of $200.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

All Monday forenoon the delegates and speakers were taking their departure from Granville after the close of the annual Inter-State Conference of Young Women's Christian Associations. The culminating sessions on Sunday were of the deepest interest. It was conceded that Dr. C. J. Baldwin preached one of his ablest sermons in the morning, the council of the convention having made special request that he preach at that time.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the Vesper service for women, led by Dr. Anna L. Brown, was largely attended and very helpful. The remarkable convention reached its climax in the convention sermon of Sunday evening at the Baptist church by Prof. John H. Strong of Rochester Theological Seminary on "The Appeal of the Cross." Its tenderness and solemnity, with the winning quality of the speaker's personality, left an impression that few of his auditors will ever forget. Professor Strong is a son of the celebrated theologian, Dr. A. H. Strong, the president of Rochester Theological Seminary. The son was formerly pastor at Cincinnati, but has for several years occupied a chair of New Testament Greek at Rochester Seminary, where many Denison students go for their theology.

The convention was a large success in every way. The visitors were charmed with Granville and the college, and there were more than a thousand Granville post cards sent out by them during the convention as one indication of the attraction of our unique town. The entertainment of the large number of guests for four days was admirably carried out under the general direction of the Dean of Shepardson college, Miss Barker, and the chairman of the committee of arrangements, Miss Anna B. Peckham. Shepardson dining hall, under the supervision of Mrs. Altrogge, served eight hundred meals a day during the convention, the tables being set twice for each meal. Both Granville and its guests will long remember this convention.

talking with Mrs. Eastman. The last words ever spoken by him were to her.

Mrs. Eastman said that when Mr. Carmack was addressed by the Coopers he immediately jumped to one side so as to be clear of her.

"Several shots rang out in rapid succession," said Mrs. Eastman, "and Senator Carmack whirled around and seemed to try to catch at an electric light pole, but, missing this in his reach, fell in a heap in the gutter just at the edge of the sidewalk. He fell somewhat on his right side, and was lying with one hand raised to his face. His revolver fell to the street by the side of him, and was picked up and turned over to the police."

Mr. Carmack in all probability was dead when he fell, as three bullets had been fired into his body.

The trouble is one of the results of the recent Democratic gubernatorial primary in which Mr. Carmack was defeated. Mr. Carmack, as editor of The Tennessean, was very caustic in criticism of what he called the Democratic machine, and had several editorials about Colonel Cooper.

Within the past few days Colonel Cooper notified Mr. Carmack that abusive editorials must cease.

Monday morning another editorial referring to Colonel Cooper appeared in the paper, and this is supposed to have been the immediate cause of the trouble.

As soon as Senator Carmack fell on the edge of the street Colonel Cooper put his arm around Robin Cooper and both walked a few feet down Seventh avenue to Dr. R. G. Fort's office. Dr. Fort stated that the son's wound was very slight.

An ambulance carried the body of Mr. Carmack to an undertaker's establishment.

Young Cooper was carried to a hospital, and Colonel Cooper is held at police headquarters. He has made no statement. Robin Cooper is a practicing attorney at law, 27 years of age and single.

The shots were very nearly simultaneous. Friends of the Coopers say Carmack drew his pistol and fired first. Mrs. Eastman says he did not. The nature of Mr. Carmack's wounds would indicate that he could not have used his pistol after being shot. The affray took place in the shadow of a large apartment house erected on the site of old President Polk's mansion.

The news of the tragedy spread throughout the city rapidly and created intense excitement. Within a few minutes several hundred persons were at the scene, including police officers, and gathered around the body of Mr. Carmack.

MRS. EASTMAN'S LATEST VERSION.

Mrs. Charles H. Eastman, who was speaking with Carmack when he was shot, gave out another interview at midnight.

"My husband and I were walking down Seventh avenue, in the direction of Church street," she said, "and had just passed the entrance to the Polk. Mr. Carmack came up the street toward us, smiling as he recognized me. He was some steps away and there were very few people on the street."

"Mr. Eastman and I were near the edge of the sidewalk and Mr. Carmack would have passed between us and the fence."

"He raised his hat as we spoke. He had his right hand up and was about to make a remark when somebody said—it was the older voice—'We've got you all right,' or something to that effect. I can't say positively what the exact words were."

"It never occurred that it was anything more than a friend speaking. Mr. Carmack raised his eyes instantly, put on his hat and ran his hand back, when the same voice said:

"You coward, you are hiding behind a woman, are you?"

"Senator Carmack jumped out so as to get clear of me, and I jumped into a getaway. I saw Mr. Carmack had a pistol. I turned and said: 'For God's sake, don't shoot.' 'I saw Mr. Carmack wheel and fall in a heap in the gutter.'"

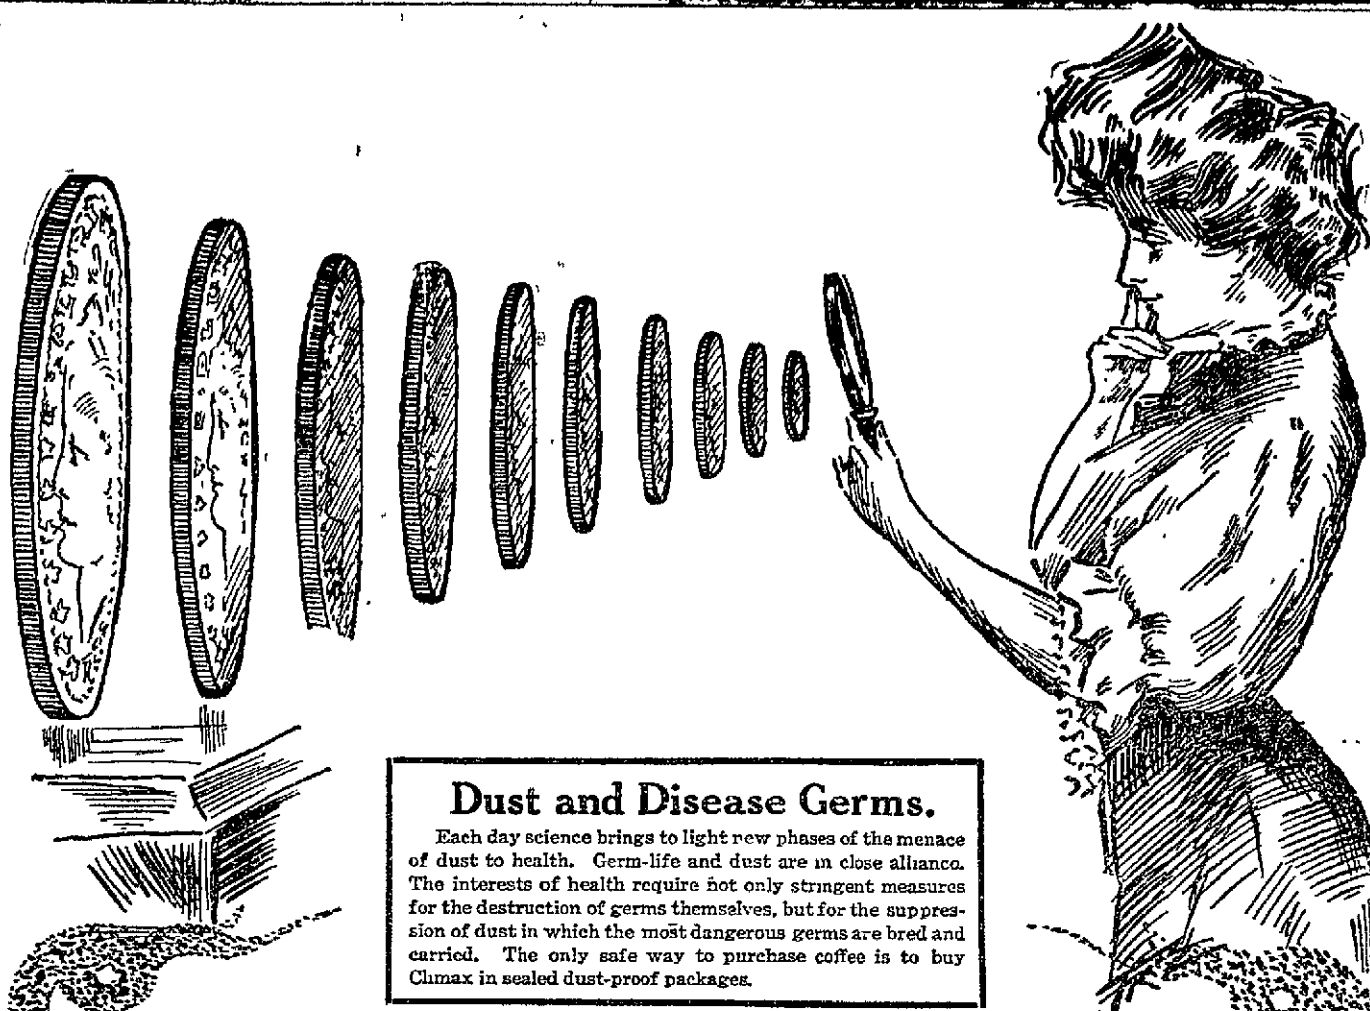

Mrs. Eastman said she saw the young man standing over Mr. Carmack, and that he put something into his own pocket.

CARMACK'S FEARLESSNESS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—Former Senator Carmack, who was killed on a street at Nashville, Tenn., is well remembered in Washington, where he served in both Houses of Congress.

In his senatorial career, from 1901 to 1907, he made a number of brilliant speeches. Although inclined to be sarcastic in some of his utterances, he had many friends in Congress among both Democrats and Republicans, who admired his fearlessness.

Perhaps the most notable speech during his four years in the Lower House was his brilliant effort in his own defense, when Josiah Patterson, father of the present Governor of Tennessee, contested Carmack's seat. In his congressional career Carmack constantly attacked the Republican administration in connection, among others, with the Indiana, Brownsville and Panama revolution incidents, Executive encroachment, &c., and his

HABITUAL TRUANCY

HAS AN INNING IN THE PROBATE COURT AND JUDGE BRISTER DELIVERS LECTURE.

Children of Nearly Four-Score Are Granted Divorce—Jury of the Court House.

Two cases of habitual truancy were before the Probate court Tuesday morning, one against David Hofer, for not attending school regularly, and Frank Hofer, the father, for not causing the child to attend school. The other case against Esler Haley, for not attending school, and John W. Smith, his step-father, for not sending the child to school. In both cases the evidence showed that the boys had attended school only about half the time. Mrs. Hofer confessing that she had kept the boy out of school to take his father's dinner and to run errands. The father, Frank Hofer, and the step-father, John W. Smith, did not obey the summons of the court and did not appear in court. They were ordered to appear in court at once under penalty of being placed in contempt. The boys were placed under a suspended sentence to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, and Judge Brister gave a plain and severe lecture to all the parties concerned. The Judge is determined to break up habitual truancy in the public schools.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. It is to these faithful women that

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Marville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:
"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

Noted Authority Gives Simple Home Remedy for Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

This is the simple home recipe now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of Rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble which have made so many cripples and invalids and weakenings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kagon, one ounce, and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments prove this simple mixture effective in Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making this up.

KITCHEN ECONOMIES.

Odds and Ends of Soap Utilized to Save Pennies.

The housewife who squanders all her odds and ends of soap should learn a lesson in thrift. She is reckless, because these bits, no matter how small, can be utilized in a way that saves more pennies than one would think.

If you are one of those who are careless in this respect, mend your ways. Gather together once a week all the ends of kitchen and laundry soap into one jar and all the ends of toilet and household soap into another jar.

As most housewives use the same brand of soap year in and year out, there will not be much of a mixture. It will make no difference if there is, as the result will be much the same.

It might be just as well to label each jar in a clear manner. On one put "Kitchen Soap," on the other, "Toilet Soap."

When you have both jars full go to work in some idle hour and shave these pieces of soap with a sharp old kitchen knife. Have two pans or bowls for the purpose, and when you are through with the soap pour into each pan two or three pints of boiling water.

Put this water at the boiling point until every particle of the soap is dissolved, stir it with a clean wooden spoon, and when it becomes soft and thick pour back into the jars while hot and cover each one.

Put them away to cool, and when this is done you will find each jar is full of a smooth, even, clear jelly.

This will keep for any amount of time. The kitchen jar is left in the pantry, and the toilet jar is put in the bathroom.

A tablespoonful of it may be put into a bottle of boiling water with a little bay rum if one likes the odor, then shaken into a thick froth and used on the head.

Half the bottle is used at first to cleanse the scalp, and when this is rinsed off the other half of the bottle is used to wash the hair itself.

THE ELEVENTH STREET BRIDGE BOTCH-WORK

"Not a single reference was made in the specifications as to what method should be used in crossing creeks or rivers, and for that reason the American Light and Water company refused to go to any additional expense of putting the pipes under water or under the river bed, because it would incur more expense than it would to lay them on the bridge. So it can readily be seen how the hands of the B. P. S. at the time, Messrs. Christian, McVeigh and Taylor were members, were tied. Had they insisted on the pipe being put under the river bed it would have entailed more expense, and would have gone under the head of extras."

The above paragraph is a sample of a jumbled mass of incoherent expressions which appeared in the American Tribune on Monday evening, in which the writer, "working under direction, of course," attempted to frame the excuse for the carelessness, or worse, of the late board of service in the laying of the city water works pipe (a 16-inch main) across the old Eleventh street bridge.

With reference to the above quoted paragraph, in which it is explained that W. C. Christian, the president of the then board, had his hands tied by the engineers and the American Light and Water company, it will be recalled that he did not consider his hands so tightly tied regarding expending the city's money when he caused the pumping station of the plant to be removed from the first site to the present location, thus wasting the money of the city, that had already been expended there and increasing the expenditure by the construction of the pumping station at the new site, which required nearly a half mile of additional 16-inch main to reach the city.

Neither was there any thought of "additional expense" when the total of the original contract made by the first board of service was increased by the late board from $267,000 to some $300,000.

The fact that the engineers and the A. L. & W. Co. refused to put the Eleventh street pipe line under the stream, instead of across the rickety, weak bridge, is no excuse for the negligence on the part of the late board, for the board of public service is legally in authority over the engineers or the contracting company, and had they desired to do so, could have insisted on the pipe going under the stream. Or if the city had been properly served by the consulting engineer, the pipe was laid under the stream, near, he would have seen to it that the Advocate had not allowed any political bias or influence to actuate it, either in bestowing deserved praise for good work or in publishing just criticism of mistakes that have been made in the construction of the city's water plant.

The Eleventh street bridge botch-work is inexcusable, regardless of who is to blame for it.

ed a suit case set. So many people use the suit case, but have never been able to overcome the difficulty of keeping the shoes and brushes from rubbing up against their clean linen. There are three different articles in this set, all of which are made of coarse linen. The receptacle for shirts is in the shape of a large envelope, the edges bound with rib, and should be large enough to contain two shirts.

The bag for collars is made from the same material. The bottom is circular and made from pasteboard. A good idea is to sew to this a strip of pasteboard about two inches deep. These should be covered with the linen before being fastened together. The upper part of bag should be full and gathered with a drawing string. This protects the collars from crushing as well as keeps them clean.

The third article in the set is a plain linen bag lined with oiled silk. This is intended for sponges and protects the contents of the suit case from the moisture of this toilet necessity after it has been used. The hairbrush can be put in this bag if no sponge is used. The monogram can be embroidered on the outside.

To make a slumber robe for baby take two and a half yards of plain silkoline, three bolts of No. 1 ribbon, one skein of Shetland floss and one bat of fine cotton.

Divide the silkoline into two equal parts, place in a frame and put in layers of cotton between, ready for tying.

Tie the ribbons all in tiny bows. Thread the needle with the Shetland floss, using it double. Bring the needle up from the bottom, then down again, taking a stitch through one of the bows. Tie the yarn on the wrong side, with three or four extra needles tied in the knot to make a small tuft.

Continue the knotting in this manner, beginning with two and a half inches from the edges, making the tufts four inches apart. Turn in the edges all around and buttonhole closely with the yarn used singly.

Crochet a row of shells around the quilt, each shell of five double crochet fastened with a single crochet and placed close enough together to make the work lie flat and suited at the corners.

On the right side, just inside the buttonholing, make a row of feather-stitching with the yarn.

This makes a light, dainty cover for the baby. It is very pretty of blue silkoline tied with white ribbons or of white silkoline tied with pink and blue.

AMUSEMENTS

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS:
"East Lynne" will be presented at the Auditorium Theater Thursday, Nov. 12, matinee and night, by Joseph King's excellent company. The American public today finds greatest delight in the drama that has a big human note, that deals with elemental passions and sorrows, and that tells a gripping, vital story. It is a rare treat. You know "East Lynne" contains these elements. How often have you said, "I would like to see it played by a good company."

The bill at the Orpheum yesterday was greeted with three good houses and all were well pleased with what they saw. The bill is, without doubt, the strongest singing show that has played here in a long time. The performance opens with Orville, the foot equillibrarian act that is different from all others when it comes to juggling, and he pleased the audience with his part of the entertainment. The Most duo, the boy and girl bartone, are a good pair of singers and dancers. Their act is quiet, but it keeps the audience quiet with them, to hear the very pretty duets that they sing. The O'Neal duo just had the audience with them from the start and the act is bound to make a big hit here. All three have very fine voices and their harmony is great. The finish of the act is new and novel, being an imitation of two colored Southern gentlemen playing bones and tamborines in ragtime. Rogers and Evans, who close the show, are two clever performers, and would make a good closing act for any bill as it brings George Cohen's old saying, "Always leave them laughing when you say good-bye." Mr. Rogers is the best eccentric dancer that ever played the house.

The pictures are all new and very interesting and no one should miss this show.

In the last half of this week will be seen an old Newark lad, who was born and raised and went to school here.

The brightest and breeziest of all singing shows, adorned with pretty girls, is the rather catchy manner in which the "Monte Carlo Girls," the attraction at the Auditorium Theater next Saturday, Nov. 14th, is billed. Few singing shows on the road compare with this one in up-to-dateness, and none compare in the matter of splendid show-girls. The boys always look forward to the coming of the attraction, and they are always sure to get a "good run for their money."

Local theater goers will be interested in the announcement of the appearance next Thursday, matinee and night, of the favorite emotional drama, "East Lynne," the greatest of all emotional plays. The company has been selected with discrimination and in the matter of scenic equipments and accessories, the presentation of "East Lynne" will measure up to a high standard. The engagement at the Auditorium Theater is for two performances only. Thursday at 1:00 and 8:00.

Tonight at the Auditorium Theater there will be motion pictures, illustrated songs and Prof. Smith's orchestra.

The pictures are all new and the illustrated songs are the best that can be secured.

for and exultant triumph of the side we want to win.

But "The Wolf," Eugene Walter's play, witnessed at the Auditorium Theater last evening by one of the most select and encores of the present season, a melodrama, bids us remember that there are melodramas and melodramas. We are reminded that the opposites of melodrama must necessarily be opposers of Shakespeare, for what are Hamlet, Macbeth, Richard III, but melodramas? There is no denying we all enjoy thrilling climaxes, and especially when those climaxes are so artistically woven into the lives of characters and situations drawn within the realm of possibility and probability.

Ohio is undoubtedly the mother of presidents but Ohio has something else to her credit—a real playwright, a dramatist Eugene Walter shows that even a newspaper man can do things. He is comparatively young in the dramatic field, and yet he is the author of two of the greatest successes of the season "The Wolf" and "Paid in Full," to be seen here soon, and is now at work on a new play for production in New York.

In "The Wolf" the author combines the essentials of a successful play very aptly. Probability, yet originality of plot, basic purpose of plot, and reality and possibility in the construction of characters, are observed in "The Wolf" with wonderful exactness.

The scenes of the play are laid in the Canadian Hudson Bay

STONE UP THE STOMACH

Get Rid of the Gas, Headaches and Dizziness.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a feeling as of weight on the chest, a full feeling in the throat. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom.

A very delicate stomach requires easily digested food but nature never intended that the food should be digested before it is eaten. The stomach must be strengthened to perform its own work and what it needs is not food already digested but a tonic. The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves, and medical science has produced no better digestive tonic than district, and have to do with the rivalry between Jules Beaubien (William Courtenay), a young French Canadian, and McDougal (Walter Hale), an American railroad engineer, for the love of Hilda McTavish (Frances Ring), the innocent daughter of Andre McTavish (Charles H. Riegel), the latter an inhuman father, who heaps humiliation and slavery upon his daughter because of his disappointment that her Swedish mother did not bring into the world a boy instead. The revenge of Bastille Legend (Sheridan Block) figures closely in the plot.

Mr. Courtenay's fine art was at its best in last night's offering, and his use of the French Canadian dialect is so delightful that one could spend the entire evening hearing his musical voice repeat the lines. Mr. Courtenay is as handsome as ever, but his good looks did not have so fair a chance in "The Wolf" as in "The Love Letter," in which he was seen here with Virginia Harned three seasons ago.

Miss Ring, the only woman in the cast, displays great art and the talent powers that make for success, but who still insists on showing Hilda McTavish as quite a sophisticated miss, rather than the simple-hearted, unsuspecting lass subjected by her father's coarse will. Her real talent may, however, gradually lift her from this style. In general, her work was very satisfactory.

Mr. Hale, Mr. Riegel and Sheridan Block were all three highly satisfactory to last night's audience, and taken altogether, the cast was delightful throughout.

The fact that the performance was really appreciated last night was shown when, after the final curtain, the audience, larger than either of the two evenings—Friday and Saturday—at the Southern theater in Columbus, Ohio, remained seated to extend two curtain calls, and then the audience was scarcely relieved from the delightful bit of dramatic trickery which worked up a fitting climax for the third act.

Of "The Wolf," there cannot be too much praise said, for the piece is delightful throughout, and artistically produced. B. B. H.

AT THE MUSEE.
The pictures that are being shown at the Musee Tuesday and Wednesday of this week are probably the best and most interesting ever shown at this theater. The pictures shown are of one of the world's series championship games between the Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers. Every play of both teams is shown, as are the principal plays of the game. The players of the Pittsburgh Pirates are also shown in action. The pictures are unusually clear, and every player is easily recognized.

AN OLD TONY PASTOR SONG.
The following verse and chorus comprise part of a song that was made famous some 35 years ago by the late Tony Pastor. The song has been relegated to the background, with the rest of the old suddenly become favorites, but in its time it was sung by everyone:

I WOULD NOT BE A BABY.
I wished to be a baby;
I've changed my mind since then.
I've been a baby once,
But never wish to be again.
The girls would haul and haul me,
And once we would chat,
But when you're but a baby,
Now what's the use of that?
Chorus
I would not be a baby
With a temper sweet or sour—
A squalling little monkey—
Not even for an hour.

DO THE CITIZENS OF NEWARK AND LICKING COUNTY APPROVE OF IT?

When the petitions for the Local Option election were put into the hands of the solicitors to secure signatures, the committee urged them to treat courteously every man whom they approached and not to embarrass our business men by unduly insisting that they should sign the petition.

We believe you business men fully appreciate this attitude we have taken, as many of you have already commended us upon the evident desire manifest to carry on this campaign in a fair straightforward manner.

In contrast with our position the saloon people have threatened you from the beginning if you should sign the petition and now it comes to our knowledge that they have boycotted some of you because you did sign it. Do you want any stronger evidence that the Liberal League advocates, who have so loudly emphasized personal liberty, mean that it should apply only to themselves and their business?

The committee urges that any and all persons who have signed the petition and whose business has been in any way injured to report to this office at once.

All the railroads in this section of the country which operate under the rules of the Central Passenger Association, which includes all local roads, announce that on November 15th and thereafter, baby buggies will be counted as excess baggage and will be charged as such. Heretofore the railroads have been placed at a great deal of trouble by the large number of baby carriages offered as baggage. Various articles would be packed in the vehicles and the claims for damage over their loss would be so numerous that it was decided to take the above action.—Ft. Wayne News.

WILDCAT TERRITORY

DEVELOPS GOOD PUMPER NEAR BLOOMFIELD, COSHOCTON COUNTY.

Spudding Has Been Active in Bremen Field and a 200 Barrel Flow Has Been Struck.

Much excitement in oil and gas circles in the Osego and Bloomfield vicinity was caused yesterday when a 10-barrel well for the Bloomfield Oil & Gas company, was drilled in on the Mossholder farm, near Bloomfield. This is the fifth well put down by the company. The second produced two barrels daily, and the other three were dusters. The last well will be shot Wednesday, when it is expected that the production will be considerably increased.

The well is in entirely new territory, and for that reason, the strike is important.

A 200-barrel well was struck Saturday in the Bremen field, when the Avelon Oil and Gas company shot the well on the Huffard farm. Four wells have been drilled by the Avelon company and two of them have been dusters.

Anty Drudge on Washboiler Dangers.

Miss Carrie New—"Isn't it too bad about Mrs. Blank's little boy? He fell in a steaming washboiler and was scalded."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, it is a pity. Why women will boil clothes, when it is not only dangerous but a useless nuisance, I can't see. I must tell Mrs. Blank how much easier and better she can wash her clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water without boiling."

Have you the once-a-week backache?

Do you know what causes it?

Simply, long, continued bending and straightening over a washboard.

But you cannot afford to have a washwoman or send clothes to a laundry.

What are you going to do?

Do your washing the Fels-Naptha way and Fels-Naptha will loosen the dirt so that a few light rubs will take it out easily.

No boiling needed—only cool or lukewarm water, winter or summer.

NEARLY ENOUGH SIGNERS HAVE BEEN SECURED

Figures Presented Showing Local Option Election May Soon Be Held.

Rev. Mr. Biddle, of the United Brethren church, made an interesting address Monday evening in the local option question at the Woodside church.

A small but appreciative audience was assembled, which listened closely to the speaker.

After Mr. Biddle concluded his address, the meeting was presided over by Dr. O'Hara, who is an indefatigable worker in the cause of local option. Dr. O'Hara talked very entertainingly regarding the work now going on and presented figures to show that enough signers are already secured to make an election possible in the near future.

Newark Men Will Enjoy Hunt, and At the Same Time Investigate Rice Culture.

The latter part of this month or the first of next month a party of six well known gentlemen of this city and Licking county will leave for a three weeks' trip through Southern Arkansas, visiting the rice country and looking over the timber situation, with a view to an investment. They will also put in a good part of their time in hunting in the Red River valley, celebrated for the game to be found there. Some enthusiasm has been stirred up in the party regarding the culture of rice. One of the members of the party is already interested in rice there and is exhibiting a report of a 120 acre field, which this year produced 9,000 bushels of rice, of 75 bushels to the acre.

COUNCIL WILL INVESTIGATE A SEWAGE SYSTEM

Complete Plant Would Cost About $300,000—Doings of the City Council Monday Evening.

At Monday night's meeting of the city council it was decided to dig deep into the secrets of the city engineer's office and secure the plans drawn at the order of a former board of public service for a complete sewage system and disposal plant for the city of Newark. Such a system, completed, would probably cost in the neighborhood of $300,000, but when once completed would be worth to the city many times its original cost.

This action came about as a result of the introduction of an ordinance by Mr. Stare, authorizing the board of service to proceed with plans for the construction of an artificial stone walk on the north side of West Main street, running west from the Racoon bridge, and also for the construction of an iron guard railing. The ordinance was referred to the street committee, to report at the next regular meeting, which is next Monday night.

It was at this point that Councilman Fulton opened the discussion of the sewer question, by inquiring what had become of the instructions to the street committee or board of public service regarding the violation of the law by Eighth street property owners who are making use of the drainage sewer from that street for sanitary purposes. It was reported that the matter had been referred to the street committee for action on several occasions, but had for some reason been overlooked.

On investigation it has been found that private sewers from Eighth and Church streets had been tapped into the drainage sewer, and that where it empties into the Racoon, at the West Main street bridge, the conditions are such that the residents are obliged to keep their doors and windows closed in the summer to protect themselves from the disagreeable odors from it.

Jacob Kellenberger, a citizen from that particular locality, was present, and addressed the council, stating that some time ago he personally presented a petition from 25 citizens of the neighborhood, but that it was received and filed, and that was the last of it. He stated that the residents of Eighth street and Church street had tapped the sewer, and that taps had been made from the Evans addition, with the result that health was endangered in the community, and he had written to the state board of health about the matter and was asked to look to the local health department.

Secretary Macdonald, of the board of trade, was present, and he spoke of the ordinance, saying that he was aware that no ordinance existed, but that there was no statutory power on Church street, and he decided to look into the matter next Monday night and try to get

FASHION NOTES

There never has been a season when so many clever attractive things have been designed for women's neckwear. From the narrow silk tie, tied in a four in hand knot to the elaborate jabots designed to wear with coat suits, the range is endless. The combination of embroidery and white linen in collar and tab is particularly popular. One of the most attractive coat sets of collars and cuffs is made of Irish crochet, applied to hand made flax net.

Women sometimes adopt a fashion, or a change of an existing fashion, often a detail of the costume, for no other apparent reason save that it is a change—something new. They have been comfortable for a period with a certain fashion. Then Paris dressmakers, because they must have new details to sell their gowns, issue an edict changing the styles. American dressmakers and manufacturers of women's fine gowns fall in with the money making change and behold— we have a new fashion. Many times it isn't as comfortable or as practicable as the old one but it is new therefore the women must have it.

Time was when she followed a new style blindly and retained it though she suffered inconvenience from it. But more recently she has asserted her independence and discarded styles which were not comfortable and gone back to the former more practicable ones.

An interesting recent example of this is, the rebellion against the long sleeve. For several seasons the short sleeve was worn by women who found it comfortable, slightly and in every respect a desirable fashion. Paris says this year that the sleeve must be long, even to the back of the hand and must fit the arm tightly. The American makers of waists hailed this with delight. It meant something new. So did the American dressmakers. They advised long sleeves and made them very long. But already the indications are strong that the long sleeve is doomed. Women are finding it uncomfortable after the short sleeve, even for evening wear, and will undoubtedly revert in the early spring to the short sleeve.

Knitting has been known for centuries and as early as the 15th century, good examples of knitted work were to be found especially in Italy, Spain and Germany. Among the first knitted stockings were those made of silk worn by Henry II of France on the day of his sister's wedding to the Duke of Savoy in 1559.

Since then, silk has been more and more worn for stockings. The stocking itself has been improved also in many ways and now the latest development is the double tipped stocking made with the reinforced so-called garter top that will not wear out where the hose supporter clasp bites the fabric.
